Re: reasonable period to comply with official signage:

60 days is adequate for signage on ATMs, in lobby, etc. but not adequate for marketing materials/brochures. At least one year to comply, with respect to preprinted materials currently on hand, would reduce waste and lessen our expenses to replace these items.

Re: Official signage language:

'Your savings federally insured to at least $100,000 and Individual Retirement Accounts insured to at least $250,000 and backed by the full faith and credit of the United States Government.'
